

OLD CONVENT BUILDING IS NOW FULLY RAZED, BUT MEMORIES REMAIN

The old Notre Dame convent building on Highway 1 near the highway that was erected in 1885 is no more. The work of demolishing was completed this week. The old structure was purchased some time ago by J. Casaretto and the lumber distributed to various persons in this city. The space occupied by the convent is to be used as a parking place for those attending Mount Carmel Church on Sunday.

The spot where the convent stood for 46 years will be sacred to those who attended the school in the years that have flown and the old building will be treasured in memory by the boys and girls who passed their youth within its hallowed walls.

The old rugged cross that stood as a beacon on the outer building to the hundreds of children attending is gone forever but it will ever remain fresh in the minds of those who passed beneath it on their way to the classroom. Often will memory revert to the old cross that glistened in the sunlight and bid a welcome to the youngsters as they romped through the open door in the morning.

Notre Dame Convent was erected late in 1885 through the efforts of the late Rev. M. O'Riordan, then pastor of the parish which included Menlo Park. The opening was the occasion of much ceremony, the leading citizens of this city taking part. Rev. O'Riordan passed away many years ago at Berkeley.

Sister Julia was the first superior of the convent, a position she held for many years. She died twenty years ago in San Jose. Fifty pupils was the first enrollment, quite a few of whom have followed the first superior to the realms beyond. Others have become the first citizens of the state.

Among the first sisters to come at the opening of the institution was Sister Isabella who is still living and is 87 years old. She is in a convent at Santa Clara. In her reminiscences she often refers with pleasure to the pioneer days of the school at Redwood City. Sister Mary Alberta came as a novice from San Jose and taught as a young woman for a number of years. She is now in her seventies and for over a half century was a successful teacher. The sisters are now retired and in a cloister in San Francisco awaiting the time when she will go to her reward.

The late Mrs. J. Kearse was among those who devoted much time and labor to raising funds to start the school. She took a great pride in it and in her declining years it was a source of consolation and comfort to her to know that she had contributed to the younger years of her life to the institution she loved so well.

The new buildings of the convent on James street are in striking contrast to the ancient structure that was. However, around the latter there clusters hallowed memories and associations that time can not efface. Former students of the old convent will never forget the spot where it stood and may be with the passing years, when the sea and yellow leaf of life arrives, come back and offer a silent prayer at the scenes of their youthful dreams and where in childhood they romped, carefree and happy.

DOG RACING REOPENS ON TWO TRACKS

Following recent announcement that the new Baden Kennel Club greyhound track would open at South San Francisco Saturday night comes a statement from officials of the Bayshore Kennel Club at Belmont that dog racing will get under way Monday evening for the fall meeting, advancing the date after a conference with Belmont city officials.

Operation of the two plants in San Mateo county simultaneously is expected to indicate how well the traffic will bear such competition.

Many of the Belmont spectators have in the past been attracted down the peninsula from San Francisco and it is believed in some quarters that if the new Baden track draws the San Franciscans the Belmont attendance will suffer heavily.

Woodhams Is Waiter- For Soldier's Bonus

Arch Woodhams of La Honda was called as a juror in a damage suit in Judge Swart's court Wednesday. He was asked by Attorney J. E. McCurdy what was his occupation. Immediately he declared he was a waiter.

"A waiter in a La Honda restaurant?" suggested McCurdy. "No," replied Woodhams, "just an ex-soldier waiting for his bonus."

A ripple of laughter, in which the court joined, permeated the courtroom.

PUBLISHERS AT FREE CONFAB

D. E. O'Keefe of the Times-Gazette and Horace Amplett, San Mateo Times, represented the county at the conventions of the National Editorial Association and the California Press Association at Los Angeles last week.

The members of both associations attended the Olympic Games and toured Southern California. At Hollywood the newspapermen were introduced to fifty movie stars and were permitted to enter the studios to witness the making of pictures. This was an unusual favor granted to the journalists, who hailed from all parts of the United States.

At a meeting of the California Press Association, F. W. Richardson was elected president of the organization for the thirty-third time.

Mr. Amplett and Mr. O'Keefe enjoyed the program that was so generously arranged for the newspapermen by the southerners.

BANTAM CAR IN SMASHUP, MAN IS HURT

Los Altos Critically Injured In James Avenue Crash

Miraculously escaping death when his "bantam" automobile was overturned and demolished in a collision with another car at the corner of Grand and James streets at 9 o'clock Wednesday, Morton L. Cook of Paso Robles avenue, Los Altos, incurred injuries which caused his removal to the Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo after treatment at the emergency hospital here.

Cook suffered a fracture of the pelvis, lacerations of the hands and face, and severe contusions of the head and body. He is under observation by Drs. Harry Mason and Robert Monteith for possible internal injuries.

Cook's machine was left upside down, its side staved in and three of its four tires ripped off, after a crash with a sedan driven by Albert Bevilacqua of Blenheim avenue.

Bevilacqua was not injured and the damages to his car were slight. He assisted in removing Cook to the hospital.

According to Police Officers W. H. Thompson and Henry Mengel who investigated the accident, Bevilacqua's machine was proceeding north on Grand street and the Cook auto was going east on James.

BOY REVEALS DIME HOLDUP

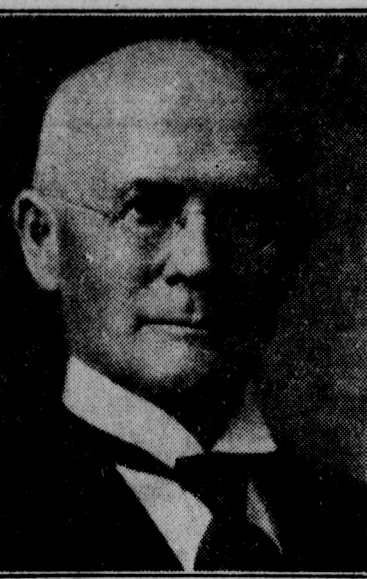

But Skeptical Police Get Him To Admit Story False

SAN MATEO, Aug. 3.—Carter Anderson, Jr., 11, of 671 Fulton street, San Francisco, rushed into the home of George W. Bowness, 314 North El Camino Real, last night, telling him that he had been robbed of 10 cents and an ingersoll watch.

The boy described a "big green" sedan in which he said four men had kidnapped and robbed him, and furnished police with the license number. The trouble was that he had two too many "H's" in the number and the police got mighty suspicious.

He then told the truth, saying that he had taken a car from San Francisco but didn't have fare home and wanted some excuse to offer his parents for being late. Police turned the boy over to his parents.

CAMPAIGNING

PRAISE RECORD OF JUDGE BUCK

Aspirants for political office in San Mateo county today were getting down to real campaigning, with the primary election less than a month away. Never before has San Mateo county experienced a more interesting or more warmly contested election than the one to be held on August 30.

Wide interest is centering in the contest among the candidates for San Mateo county's superior judgeships, especially in department one, where Superior Judge George H. Buck has presided for years even before another department was thought of for the county.

No candidate in the entire field is more interested in his campaign or more energetic in his efforts for victory than is Judge Buck, who has held the post for nearly half a century. The venerable jurist has been an outstanding character in San Mateo county for years. He has presided over every important case, civil or criminal, for the past four decades.

Judge Buck served San Mateo county for eight years as district attorney before he was elected superior judge 42 years ago. In that time, he has seen San Mateo county grow from the "cow" county class to an important part of a great metropolitan area.

Oldtimers have said that the history of San Mateo county is the history of Judge Buck, and his long service in the development of the county has earned for him the title of the county's "Grand Old Man."

Judge Buck's work on the bench has gained wide comment not only in this county but throughout the state. In reporting on the activities of his court last year, the California Judicial council, composed of judges over the entire state, paid the judge a high tribute when it said:

"He has handled more litigation than any other jurist in the state, and in some cases as much as four judges combined."

Despite his 84 years, Judge Buck is, according to officials in Redwood City, the most active man in the courthouse. The judge himself is modest about his activity, but says he has always been a staunch admirer of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retired from the supreme court of the United States only a short time ago at the age of 92 years.

The Judge Buck Club of San Mateo reported today that its members and workers were finding a surprising response to Judge Buck's candidacy.

FAIR OAKS BACKS POOLE CAMPAIGN

Approximately fifty residents of the North Fair Oaks district met on August 1 at the residence of Ward Tucker for the purpose of furthering the campaign of John W. Poole for supervisor.

The meeting was called to order by Frank G. Warner as temporary chairman and the first matter taken up was the election of a permanent chairman and secretary. Ward Tucker and Mrs. Chas. Knight were respectively elected to the above offices. The chairman then briefly stated the purpose of the meeting.

The name "North Fair Oaks John W. Poole for Supervisor Club" was adopted.

The following plan was then proposed and after discussion was adopted: that all members take upon themselves individually the canvassing of their immediate district ascertaining the political status of each voter and reporting back to the executive committee at the next regular meeting, to be held at the Garfield School auditorium on August 13. It was further decided to hold a dance at the Garfield School auditorium on August 13, the music to be provided and the refreshments donated by members. The public being cordially invited.

COMMUTING PASS PLAN EXPLAINED

Use Under Railroad's Proposal Would Be Unlimited

Proposal of the Southern Pacific railroad to sell monthly passes good for unlimited use between the points for which they are sold was explained to members of the San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations by J. E. Warren, assistant general passenger traffic manager, at a meeting at the San Mateo City Hall Wednesday night.

The plan, Warren said, is similar to that in use by the New York Central and has met with the approval of commuters on that line after they had first objected.

Warren stated that the pass will be sold at slightly higher rates than the present commutation ticket but that an eventual reduction of 16 per cent is planned in both commutation and one-way fares between San Francisco and peninsula points.

The present one-way fare from Redwood City to San Francisco, 96 cents, is due to be reduced to about 50 cents when the new system goes into effect, providing it first meets with the approval of peninsula commuters, Warren announced.

Warren was introduced by George B. Hanson, district passenger agent for the Southern Pacific. W. H. Morrissey of Redwood City, chairman of the board of governors of the county federation, presided.

H. H. Hewitt, chairman of the roads and boulevards committee of federation, stated that he regretted that the San Joaquin-to-the-Sea highway had been routed elsewhere than first planned and that he would direct his efforts toward reverting the road to its originally planned route.

Tax reduction and the new county charter will be discussed by speakers before the county federation at its next meeting, August 17, at the Twentieth Avenue School in San Mateo under the auspices of the Beresford Civic League.

Drewes Girls Finalists In Racquet Play

Advancing to the finals in women's doubles and girls' singles, members of the Drewes family today became strong contenders for at least two of the trophies in The Tribune's first annual tennis tournament as a result of victories yesterday.

Lillian and Garnet Drewes paired against Elaine Nelson and Elsie Moss in a doubles match and won after an extra-set encounter. The Misses Drewes won the first set 6-2, but lost a hectic second set by a score of 4-6. The final set was 6-3 in favor of the sister team.

The Drewes and Drewes team will play the winner of the semi-final match between Mrs. Inez Carolla-Ruth Adams, and Dorothy Brasch-Mary Donovan, which promises to be another close struggle.

Claire Drewes went into the finals of the girls' singles when she eliminated Kathryn DeNike in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1. Margaret McCarthy and Janis Hildebrandt will play for the right to meet Miss Drewes for the championship.

Walter Holke, formerly with the Giants, Phillies and Reds, and manager of the Terre Haute Three-Eye team until it disbanded, now is a coach with the Indianapolis Indians.

George Jennings of Chicago, four times singles and five times doubles champion in national public parks tennis tournaments, will be unable to defend his titles this year because of a chronic knee injury.

Poole Campaigners Will Meet Monday

Workers in the John Poole campaign will meet at the office of Mr. Poole on Jefferson avenue and Broadway next Monday evening to compare notes and plan an extensive campaign for the next four weeks. While Mr. Poole's election is assured, his friends will leave nothing undone to secure votes for their candidate.

The College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church is made up of 70 members.

SEEKS VOTES

SUPERVISOR POOLE

POOLE ROUNDING OUT FIRST TERM

John W. Poole comes before the voters of the third township for re-election with a clean record and one of accomplishments. He has built more roads in his district during his term than any other supervisor that has held the office.

Mr. Poole has done things. He is a courteous and pains taking gentleman, one who can be approached and one who will listen to any complaint made to him and give consideration and attention to all.

Mr. Poole is rounding out his first term, having been elected for the first time four years ago. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of John MacBain, who had held the office for eighteen years.

Mr. Poole has made a splendid official, is efficient, capable and is a roadbuilder of more than ordinary ability. He should be retained in office. The district needs such men as Mr. Poole.

His friends predict he will be elected by a substantial vote.

Taxpayers know how he is conserving the funds of his district and they are supporting him with a vigor that means his election.

SERIES OF ACHIEVEMENTS IS SHORTRIDGE'S RECORD

If one were to characterize United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge's career as a senator in a phrase, it should be said that his record has been one long series of accomplishments for the people and the industries of California.

Outstanding among the measures of great benefit to the state that he has secured are the tariff provisions which give protection against competition of cheap foreign labor to scores of California products.

By virtue of his membership on the Senate Finance Committee, which drafts tariff legislation, he has assisted in securing more items of tariff protection for California products than any other ten states enjoy.

But the tariff is only one of the fields in which he has achieved greatly for the people of California. His record also includes a long list of measures, successfully pressed to passage, sponsored by or protecting the interests of women's organizations, war veterans, labor, the federal employees, national defense, etc.

In short, his record proves that he is, as he set out to be when first elected, the "United States Senator for All California."

No man's record in public life speaks more eloquently than that of Senator Shortridge and because men base their opinions of capability on achievements won, there seems no question that the Republican voters of the State of California will again select the distinguished senator as their nominee at the August primary.

For twelve years now Senator Shortridge has proved himself to be an ardent champion of the needs of California in particular and the United States in general.

Search where one will it is impossible to uncover anything in denial of this truth, while to state that he has never weakened nor compromised on questions of vital interest to California is to observe a fact well known to every voter in this state who has followed his career.

City Council Slashes $8,000 Off Salaries

Municipal salary reductions aggregating $8,000 and additional parings from the general budget totaling $6,000 were decided upon by the city council Monday night.

If finally approved, these slashes will bring an additional 10-cent reduction of the tax rate beyond the 15-cent paring proposed in the tentative budget of City Manager Ernest A. Rolison.

This will give Redwood City taxpayers a 25-cent cut over the 1931-32 rate.

Ninety-five cents per $100 will be all that is charged to general government, and the 10 reduction as Chief Ryan will take over the supervision of the electrical department; park superintendent, $2400, $2160, $2240; city mechanic, $2400, $2280, $180.

Police Sergeant Wood, $2280, $2160, $120; Fire Captain Fowler, $2220, $2100, $120; Officers Thomas, Genocchio, Mengel, Douglass, Fleishman, and Snider, $2100, $1980, $120; Firemen Wood, Prusch, Lodi, Genocchio, and Lutje, $2100, $1980, $120.

Police Judge McAuliffe, $1500, $1410, $90; Doris Thompson, $1560, $1500, $60; Margaret Cussen, $1440, $1380, $60; Mary Donovan, $1680, $1500, $180.

Poundmaster Shook, $1500, $1320, $180; George McNulty (street sweeper), $2100, $1980, $120. Other reductions included day labor reductions from $7 to $6.50; from $6 to $5.50, and from $5 to $4.75.

Police and firemen's salaries were cut $10 per month, or $120 per year, which is $7.50 less than the proposed 10 per cent cut suggested by the tax reduction body.

The new city rate would be $1.05 per $100, instead of $1.30 per $100 as in 1931-32.

Here is the proposed salary schedule, giving the officer, old salary, new salary and amount of reduction:

City manager, $5400, $5000, $580 ($180 being taken off for oil and gas); city engineer, $3900, $3300, $600; city attorney, $3540, $2700, $840; police chief, $3800, $2700, $600; building inspector, $3000, $2400, $600; treasurer, $3000, $2700, $300; water superintendent, $2700, $2580, $120; tax collector, $2400, $2280, $120; fire chief, $2400, no

RETAILERS' GET MANY FINE POINTS

Dinner Get-Together Here Wednesday Well Attended

"Depression is the mother of opportunity."

The above was one of the pithy maxims of the guest speaker at the dinner of the Retailers' Division of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce at the Fox Shoppe Wednesday, and the event itself was proof of the speaker's declaration. The attendance was more than twice the number prepared for, and was enthusiastic and successful from every standpoint.

The speaker was William A. Baylor, secretary of the Merchants' Association of San Jose. The purpose of the dinner was to consider the question of whether the present retail sales campaign should be continued for another six months or longer, and to celebrate the success of the campaign to date.

Evidencing the interest of the business people there was an outpouring which included many who seldom have attended such affairs in the past. A noticeable feature also was the attendance of a large number of business women.

"There are two deadly snakes in business in every city," said Baylor. "These two snakes," he continued, "are jealousy and suspicion. If you can eliminate these vipers you will find many of your problems have been solved."

"You can't close your door and keep your business knowledge secret and be successful. If you close the door so your own knowledge won't get out, you have also shut out all new ideas which you might get from the other fellow."

"Every moment of our life, and every act of our life, has a relation to the other fellow, and his life and business to us. So we must co-operate or we are out of harmony with existence and soon it means a business failure."

The speaker touched upon phases of the retail campaign in Redwood City, and said that ever since it had been discovered that two men could roll a stone easier than one, that business men had advanced their causes by co-operation and had failed when they tried to play a lone role.

The speaker urged merchants to exceed all past efforts in courtesy, helpfulness, willingness to get articles of stock not on hand, and thankfulness for existing patronage and new patronage.

"When a horse balks, the balk is in his head," Charles G. Lambert, another speaker of the evening, said. "When business balks, the balk is in the business man's head." Lambert's subject was "What the Public Expects of the Merchant."

Sam Winklebleck talked upon the work of the solicitation committee, and told of a costly plan which outside solicitors had been endeavoring to foist on the merchants. He said it had been investigated and turned down by the Retailers' Division after a lengthy hearing, and he urged merchants to always refuse to take part in schemes promoted by outsiders unless the solicitors had the endorsement of the merchants' committee.

Another speaker was E. B. Hinman, county clerk and merchant. He said he believed the present movement is one having the possibility of doing for the community some of the things needed both to make business better, and to make it a better place to live and do business.

Frank Holiday, who organized the "Trade in Redwood City" campaign, was also present. He complimented the merchants for going ahead with the campaign.

Lambert led in community singing, with Kendall B. Towne as accompanist. The song leader had prepared some attractive booster songs to oblige the favorite tunes, and this event added much to the evening. The Firemen's Orchestra provided other music during the dinner.

Howard Wood, manager of the chamber, read a prepared statement outlining some of the proposed special events to keep the retail campaign active for six months. James F. Hearne was called upon and added some excellent suggestions for continued co-operation of merchants and townspeople for the good of the community and to aid employment.

The sponsoring committee included Sam Winklebleck, chairman; Clarence E. Cheate, Kendall B. Towne, J. P. Hearne, and W. D. Ryan, the latter serving as dinner chairman. Wood, manager of the chamber, served as secretary.

Menlo Park

Miss Ollie Podany, a winsome and talented young lady from Minneapolis, Minnesota, is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. Horn. Miss Podany is a teacher of talent and ability. She may decide to remain in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Sutton, who have been attending the Olympic games in Los Angeles for a week, are expected at their Menlo Park home this week-end.

Dr. J. H. Raymond departs for his old home in Honolulu next week for a brief visit. Many years of the doctor's life were spent on the islands in the practice of medicine. Born in New York and educated there, he went to Honolulu as a young doctor and built up a lucrative practice. On his return he may open an office here.

D. E. O'Keefe, Carmel and Edward O'Keefe and Miss Ruth Ruggard returned from the Olympic games at Los Angeles this week. They report having a delightful time in the sunny southland.

Last Tuesday night by a unanimous vote the city council denied a permit for the establishment of a dog track in Menlo Park. The motion was made by Crane and seconded by Dale. The chamber was crowded by those favoring and against the proposition. All the members of the council were present.

The regular order of business was suspended and Mayor Weeden in opening the proceedings declared that everyone would be heard. He asked that no personalities be injected into the hearing.

Action against the racing proposition was taken after the presentation of signed protests from the Menlo Junior College and 90 residents of the community, and the verbal protests of Almon E. Roth, controller of Stanford University, and the Rev. W. L. Bone, all in opposition to the dog racing scheme.

Roth said that the university could not tolerate gambling; that dog racing was dodging the law, and that the university would carry the matter to the state legislature if the permit were granted. "Dog racing," Roth declared, "is bad for business and bad for students."

Stanford University plans to develop land in the Menlo Park district and would take a negative stand on dog racing now for that reason, the controller added.

Victor A. Dupont, one of the applicants for a dog racing permit, objected to the interference of "outsiders" in the affairs of Menlo Park and attempted to justify the erection of the dog track as an aid to unemployment.

John Morey, another promoter, also objected to outside influence in the council's decision.

George Baron spoke in favor of the track, stating that he was not interested in dog racing but in the unemployment problem, and that he hadn't had a job in 14 months. The people opposing the dog track all have jobs, Baron contended.

The Rev. Mr. Bone said that Menlo Park must be careful of its reputation, and that before opening town to dog racing and its attendant evils "we should consider what Palo Alto and Redwood City think of us."

Receipt of permission from the state highway commission to install traffic signals on the highway at the Central Grammar School was announced at the council meeting by Mayor W. H. Weeden. The commission directed that the signals could be operated from 8:30 to 9:10 a. m. from 11:45 a. m. to 1:15 p. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.

The Butte Electric Company was granted a contract to install the signal on its bid of $247 for the material and installation complete. Another bid of $284.30 was received from the General Electric Company without the installation.

The sum of $50 was ordered set aside for street cleaning purposes.

The committee in charge of Judge Buck's campaign has opened headquarters in the O'Keefe building where a number of local men are to be in charge. This is to be a very active place for the remainder of the campaign. It is asserted that Judge Buck will carry Menlo Park by a very large vote at the primaries. He is the popular candidate in this section with many workers.

On Saturday morning, August 13, a food sale under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary will take place in the Menlo Meat Market. Mrs. Devol is chairman of the auxiliary.

The position of gardener for all the stations of the Southern Pacific from Palo Alto to San Francisco was abolished last week. The position was held by Mr. Wolf, residing on Mills avenue, for the past eight years.

Miss Louise de Voe Brickell, daughter of the late John Brickell, San Francisco pioneer, who made a fortune in the development of the area above Baker Beach, now known as Sea Cliff, passed away in the Dante Sanatorium last Saturday. She resided in Menlo Park with her sister, Mrs. E. B. Midland, Oak Grove avenue. Besides her sister, she is survived by a brother, Henry S. Brickell.

A food sale for the benefit of the unemployed of Menlo Park will take place in Piggy Wiggly store on Saturday morning, August 6. All kinds of cooked foods, salads, and fruit will be offered for sale. It's a worthy cause and should be well patronized.

The Native Sons' and Daughters' Parlor are to sponsor a card party in the auditorium of the grammar school on August 25. Excellent prizes are to be awarded the winners of the contest.

Mrs. Devol has returned from a visit to her ranch in Montana. She asserts that there is no evidence of depression in that state; everyone is prosperous and happy. Mrs. Devol is devoting much of her time to welfare work in Menlo Park.

San Mateo County Will Ask Road Aid

The San Mateo County Supervisors on Saturday will solicit federal funds for the Junipero Serra boulevard, Ocean Shore highway and Daly City bottleneck in hearings to be held by the State Highway Commission in the state building in San Francisco.

They will ask a share of the $4,000,000 just allocated to California from federal highway funds. The Bayshore highway extension from Palo Alto south will also be mentioned for funds.

Hallinan Comments On Tax Slashings

T. J. Hallinan, president of the Property Owners' Division of the Redwood City Real Estate Board, issued the following statement today on the city council's action of Monday night in further reducing municipal expenses:

"On behalf of the Property Owners' Division of the Redwood City District Real Estate Board, I take this opportunity to express the grateful appreciation of the property owners to the council reducing the tentative budget for the fiscal year 1932-3 as submitted by the city manager an additional $14,000. Tax payers in Redwood City by their cooperation with the council, can further express their appreciation for the untiring effort put forth by the city officials to reduce taxes at this critical time."

$1,846,700 Invested In City's Streets

City Engineer Charles Dimmitt informed the council Monday that $1,846,700 is the total investment in city streets, according to a survey going back to 1918. He said the cost of maintenance is one-half of one per cent. The repair bill last year was $9,495.

Main Features Of Proposed County Charter Outlined In Article By Chairman Howell

By JAMES B. HOWELL
President of the Board of Freeholders.

The sole aim of the board of freeholders has been to provide a charter which will insure efficiency and economy in the conduct of the affairs of San Mateo county. The method of county government throughout the entire country is a reproach to the genius and attainments of the American people.

The right of legal self-government belongs to a county as well as to any other political subdivision. Under the present conditions, the number and salaries of our county officers and of their deputies depends upon the will of the state legislature. If, and when, the new charter is adopted, we may solve such questions for ourselves.

Problem Two-Phased
The problems in our county may be classified as those which are purely legislative and those which are purely administrative. The charter provides for the election of those officers whose work is purely legislative, and for the election of those officers wherein public policy is involved, and provides for the appointment of those officers whose work is purely administrative.

In preparing a charter for county government the board of freeholders is limited in the scope of its work due to the general laws of the state which affect county government.

Due to the constitutional provisions there are certain matters which are mandatory and must be incorporated in the charter.

The matters which are permissible to incorporate in the charter are limited in nature.

Main Features Outlined
The following are the main features of the proposed charter:

(1) The board of supervisors has strongly defined legislative duties requiring the adoption of a code of rules and procedure which enables the citizen to easily locate responsibility for misgovernment, and to apply the corrective—the recall if need be.

(2) The charter creates the office of county executive to insure the enforcement of these rules, said enforcement being mandatory.

(3) The county executive officer must be a person of demonstrated administrative ability, having had experience in responsible important executive capacity. He is selected for appointment through a qualification board consisting of five members. The personnel of this board shall be the two superior judges, the county superintendent of schools, and two laymen. The appointment of the county executive is then made by the board of supervisors from those candidates who have met with the qualification requirements.

(4) The number of elective officers is reduced; thus applying the principle of the short ballot. (This feature insures economy and efficiency in government.)

Fee System Abolished
(5) The fee system of compensation for officers is abolished, all fees being turned into the county treasury.

(6) The supervisors are relieved from the duty of caring for the county roads in their respective districts. The charter provides for one road district under the jurisdiction of the county executive and the county engineer-surveyor. This provision will insure an immediate reduction in the expenditure of one of the largest amounts of money in our county budget.

(7) The department of health and welfare is organized on modern lines and principles of business administration, and will give to San Mateo county a much needed relief in this phase of county government.

(8) Adequate and necessary fire protection for our forest and water sheds is provided through the medium of a contract with the state at no extra cost. This system is in vogue at the present time in 36 of our counties and is in accordance with a general plan of protection of our national resources.

(9) The question of labor is covered by several advanced and necessary provisions, in order to give preference to citizens of San Mateo county.

(10) Additional duties have been added to the office of the auditor so that he is elevated to the position of comptroller, and he, together with the county executive, is responsible for the fiscal procedure of the county. The rules governing said procedure are in accordance with the most advanced practice.

Five Justice Courts
(11) The charter provides for the creation of five justice courts with the necessary attending constables, both justices of peace and constables being on a full time basis. These judicial townships are coterminous with the supervisory districts, thus insuring adequate service to the people of the county.

(12) Provision has been made so that the functions of any of the special districts and municipalities, at the will of the people of these districts or municipalities, and in accordance with state law, may be delegated to the county on a contractual basis at a figure satisfactory to the county.

(13) Under the constitutional provisions the charter cannot contain matters affecting the county school system.

(14) Provision has been made so that the charter may be amended whenever the citizens of San Mateo county so desire.

No Word on Annexation
When the work was first started by the board of freeholders on the charter, it was feared in some quarters that the instrument was intended to foster consolidation with the city and county of San Francisco.

As an answer to such a fear, it is sufficient to state that the constitution of the state does not permit the charter to touch upon the question; and in further answer thereto, the charter contains not a word upon the suggestion of consolidation.

FIVE BUCKS BROUGHT IN BY HUNTERS

Five more bucks are reported by local hunters in the early returns of deer hunting season which opened Monday.

The best kill of the lot was made by Joel Mansfield, son of City Attorney Albert Mansfield, who bagged a forked-horn Pacific buck weighing 150 pounds near the Pine Ridge Gun Club headquarters at Valparaiso in Alameda county, seven miles from Black Mountain and 14 miles from Mount Hamilton.

Two three-pointers of 120 pounds each were downed by Kendall Towne and Buster Quinlan.

Two others who were successful on the first day were Sumner Caldwell and son, who bagged a forked-horn buck apiece in the Black Mountain district Monday.

Other successful hunters in the region included Lloyd Allen and Bill Martin of Palo Alto. Allen shot a four-pointer at his place near La Honda, and Martin brought his down near Livermore. Allen and Martin reported a great number of tracks in the regions they hunted indicating that the country is well infested with the antlered tribe. Tracks were also found in the foothills and the Mt. Hamilton district, but local hunters failed to sight their prey.

Two deer were reported killed by Redwood City hunters on the James Rolph ranch near the Skyline boulevard and hunting on the other side of the ridge was profitable to Santa Cruz nimrods who bagged four bucks.

John, "Kip" and Joe Morey; Marion Biggs, Des Sullivan and Buck Bracesco made up a party of Menlo hunters who started yesterday for the Big Sur country. They intend to spend a week in that vicinity. Fritz Roth headed for Mendocino county, where the bucks are reported plentiful. Clayton and Eugene Roberson tried the Mt. Hamilton district but failed to have any luck. Judge Edward Hardy and McPherson Lough hunted on the O'Neill ranch back of Mayfield without success.

OPERA TO CONTINUE IN SPITE OF CRISIS. DOWNES DECLARES

Confidence that opera, although confronted by a three-fold crisis, will revive and continue was expressed by Olin Downes Monday afternoon in his fifth lecture of a series of 12 at Stanford University. The New York Times music critic took as his subject, "The Operatic Crisis in Europe and America," analyzing its symptoms and causes, throwing it into historical perspective.

The three phases of the crisis which he sees confronting opera in this country and abroad were defined as the economic, the social, and the creative. Disastrous curtailment of the operatic programs in various key cities as a result of the world-wide depression was described by Mr. Downes, who nevertheless voiced the conviction that "what the people want they will have." Social changes as expressed in a generation which wants sport and speed rather than the leisurely "grand manner" of the operatic stage, he predicted, will modify the type of opera presented but will not allow the form to die out altogether. The third difficulty, the lack of great composers of opera, he attributed to the rapid changes in the life of today, conditions "too chaotic for men to see things as clearly as Verdi did." "Therefore," he added, "we wait, but we can wait in complete confidence."

Mr. Downes characterized the operatic form as "one of the oldest instincts of the human race," tracing its origins back to savage ceremonials, the rites of ancient Egypt, the mystery plays of the Middle Ages, and to all combinations of drama with music. He admitted its artificiality, but insisted that all art is artificial. The real appearance of the opera in its accredited form, he said, dates back to the 17th century and the work of the Italian, Monteverdi. From Monteverdi's creation of the aria, "intended as a musical intensification of the drama," Mr. Downes continued, many abuses grew up. Among them he listed the emphasis placed on prima donnas with the attendant sensational rivalries and exploitations which have centered around opera down to the present day. He paid tribute, too, to the efforts of such men as Toscanini and Gatti-Casazza to "rid opera of its superficial exorcism."

MILLINGTON WELL QUALIFIED FOR POST OF ASSEMBLYMAN

Wayne R. Millington, Redwood City attorney and leading candidate for the office of member of the assembly from San Mateo county, swings into the final weeks of the campaign, and prospects are exceedingly bright for election.

The only two organizations endorsing for this position at the date of this writing are the Beresford Park Development Association and the American-Italian Progressive Club of San Mateo County, both having gone on record as favoring his candidacy.

Mr. Millington is basing his campaign not upon the usual claims put forth by chronic office seekers and politicians, but has endeavored rather to present to the voters a business-like and reasonable solution insofar as the state legislature is concerned, on the problems of high taxes and unemployment. Without making claims that he will cause a magical reduction in taxes, as other candidates will do and which he, and they, and the people of San Mateo county know can not be realized, he offers rather a pledge to eliminate non-essential state expenditures. By this is meant expenses which are not revenue or employment producing.

He is strongly in favor of necessary construction of highways, harbors and buildings and for necessary repairs to existing properties.

As a solution of the high tax problem of San Mateo county he makes as part of his platform, a pledge to work for harbor development in the county. San Mateo county is predominantly a county of homes. The industrial area is so limited that the high valuation ordinarily accompanying industrial areas is almost lacking here. He believes that with proper encouragement and assistance the 50,000 idle acres of harbor lands in San Mateo county, lying on San Francisco bay, could be converted into harbors and sites for factories and industries generally. With a tremendous increase in the assessed values of these properties, a corresponding load would be taken from the homes, small ranches and dairies throughout the county.

Mr. Millington is 33 years old, an alumnus of Stanford, married, and a son of a pioneer stock. His parents settled early at Santa Rosa, where his father, the late Judge Seth Millington, was a school-mate of Associate Justice Lewell of the supreme court, at the Pacific College, located at Santa Rosa.

The candidate's older brother, Seth Millington, is a past state commander of the American Legion, Department of California, and now grand president of the Native Sons.

Woodside

The meeting of the Woodside Gardeners' Association held on Monday night was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the organization. Nearly thirty members of the Peninsula Gardeners' Association from San Mateo were guests of the local body and the exhibits were of a high order. The prize winners were: hydrangeas, first, O. E. Blackington; second, Tony Silvera; third, Vincent Goso. Zinnias, first, David Slade; second, Victor Canavesi; third, J. L. Hughes. Unclassified, first, Walter Prehn; second, Vincent Goso; third, David Slade. Peaches, first, Walter Prehn; second, Victor Canavesi; third, J. L. Hughes. P. H. Graves and Adam Lowry of the Peninsula Association addressed the meeting on problems incident to the profession and Mr. Lowry, a veteran of the late war who saw two and a half years' service overseas, spoke very convincingly in defense of the attitude of the present administration towards the question of the soldiers' bonus.

In accordance with the requirements of the times and in a desire to reduce taxation to a minimum the Woodside Fire Commissioners at their July meeting decided to defer the desired replacement of equipment and cut two thousand dollars from the previous year's budget.

The Woodside Fire Department, in response to a frantic telephone call, climbed to the Skyline on Monday night only to find that the fire was many miles away in Santa Cruz county.

Deer are scarce this year or have become more skilful in eluding the hunters so there has not been much venison on local tables. John and Bill Scrabo of Portola had the most luck or the greatest skill, each bringing in his buck on the first morning of the season.

Entertaining enthusiastic horse lovers at her place here, Mrs. W. P. Roth had as breakfast guests this week a delegation of twenty-five riders from the Menlo Circus Club, making ready for the annual horsemanship in Menlo Park, of which Mrs. Roth is an active sponsor.

Miss Marjorie Josselyn, whose return from Mills Memorial Hospital was expected last week, has not yet been able to return to her home here, but is reported to be well on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Harrison are visiting with Mrs. Harrison's mother, Mrs. Emma Andreen.

Mrs. Kathleen Burton and her son, Dana, are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Gish.

Owing to the desire of the children in that district to help their parents with the farm work during this period of depression, the Portola School will be several weeks later in opening its fall term than the other schools of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fay, Jr., are passing their honeymoon at the Mein summer home on Lake Tahoe. This beautiful estate is one of the show places of the Tahoe region, beautifully wooded and having a very large lake frontage.

Edward T. Harrison and family will leave on the 29th for a vacation trip to Honolulu. They will be gone for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry U. Roeding and their daughters, Miss Margaret and Miss Dorothea Roeding, are spending the summer in Woodside. Miss Margaret Roeding's engagement to Albert Arthur Moore of Piedmont was announced a few weeks ago. The wedding will take place in the early autumn.

News of the engagement of Miss Mary Virginia Spencer has been received from the Riviera where she and her mother have been living for several years. Miss Spencer will become the bride of Captain Charles Masters of the British army in September. Miss Spencer's mother was a member of the Josselyn family, pioneers in this valley. The bride-to-be is a cousin of Misses Mariana and Constanza Avenali, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Etore Avenali of Woodside.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller and son, Donald, have been visiting with Mrs. Miller's grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Bogie.

Oliver Gish and Robert Hughes left together on Sunday for the gold mines in northern Trinity county in a patriotic endeavor to add to the nation's gold reserve. They will not get discouraged for several months as they have taken adequate food supplies.

The members of the Woodside baseball team and of the fire department entertained themselves at a barbecue supper at Searsville Lake on Tuesday night. Forty members took advantage of the opportunity to get all they wanted to eat. George Shine was the official purveyor.

Miss Mary Lansdale entertained at an informal dinner on Wednesday night at her home in San Mateo in honor of Miss Barbara Pond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pond of Woodside, whose engagement to Alexander Donald was announced recently.

Presented With Honorary Pin And Certificate

Mrs. E. R. Rice, who led the organization of the Women of Moose, No. 601, in Redwood City last December, was presented with a past regent's certificate and pin of the Women of Mooseheart Legion, the national body, at the northern convention of the order held in Salinas on Sunday.

This certificate carries the privilege of Women of Moose throughout the world, and entitles its possessor to the friendship degree, awarded only on honor merit, at Mooseheart, Ill.

Mrs. Rice has been a member of the organization for the past 13 years, joining in Stockton. For five years, she was a member of the drill team, and held office four years.

At the quarterly convention Mrs. Frank Kohnen of this city was installed as vice president. Mrs. Mary Avery, San Jose, becomes the past president; Mrs. Francis Vincent, Vallejo, the president; Mrs. Maude Silva, Petaluma, recorder; Mrs. Daisy Mayo, Richmond, guide; Mrs. Thelma Larson, Oakland, assistant guide; Mrs. Lena Kirkmeyer, Oakland, sentinel; Mrs. Edna Hess, Salinas, organist and Mrs. Bella Hacon, Santa Cruz, grand guide.

Mrs. Grace Willits of Oakland was the installing officer. Mrs. Ada Aust from Merced, who is the grand deputy, was among the visiting officers.

Redwood City was selected as the next quarterly meeting place, and will be hostess to the visitors Sunday, October 30.

Attending from Redwood City besides Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Kohnen were Mrs. Frank Person, Mrs. Grace Pence, Mrs. R. L. Sears, Mrs. Mabel Smith, Mrs. H. Hall, Mrs. G. J. Kady and Mrs. J. C. Walrath.

The next meeting of the local order will be held August 10 in Central school at 8 o'clock. Mrs. J. C. Walrath, senior regent, will be in charge.

ISLAND VISITORS DEPART AFTER VISIT

Lieutenant and Mrs. Frank Sherwin, who are here from their station in the Philippine Islands, have departed after visiting at the home of Lieut. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor. Other guests enjoying the hospitality of the Taylor home during the past few days were Mr. and Mrs. George Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hendricks, all of whom reside in the East Bay region.

MRS. MARTENSTEIN HERE WITH SISTER

Mrs. S. C. Martenstein and daughter, Miss Helen Martenstein, of San Francisco, are visiting Mrs. Martenstein's sister, Mrs. J. D. Hedge, and Mr. Hedge, of Arlington road.

Two fires claimed the attention of the fire department this week. The first one got the boys out of their beds early Monday morning to fight a fire in the brush in the hills on the old La Honda road. The second one on Wednesday evening had not been decided upon in the roof of the Covington Pringle home off the Woodside grade. Both fires were brought under control before serious damage was done.

Mrs. Emma Andreen has been visiting with her daughter in San Francisco this week.

Many in Woodside were saddened last week by the sudden passing of Mrs. Henry McArthur whose summer residence is here. She and Mr. McArthur left here for a leisurely tour of the northern part of the state but she was stricken a few days later and was brought home from Sierra City in an ambulance, passing away two days afterwards. Mr. McArthur is a member of one of the pioneer families of Woodside and has always maintained a summer home here.

Gardeners Of Woodside Have 65 At Meeting

WOODSIDE, AUG. 3.—The meet of the Woodside Gardeners' Association, held Monday evening with President J. L. Hughes in the chair was a particularly successful event in the history of the organization. There were about 65 present, including members of the Peninsula Gardeners' Association, who were guests of the Woodside.

The three judges for the evening's exhibits, chosen from the visitors, were Adam Larry, president of peninsula gardeners, Ralph Graves, past president, and John Sousa, financial secretary. The following awards were made: for best vase of hydrangeas, first, O. E. Blackington; second, Tony Silvera; third, Vincent Goso; for dish of six peaches, first, Walter Prehn; second, Victor Canavesi; third, J. L. Hughes; for vase of zinnias, first, David Slade; second, Vincent Goso; third, David Slade.

The three men acting as judges gave talks on flowers and gardening.

The exhibit committee of the local club will meet on August 5 to plan for the coming chrysanthemum show, an annual event in Woodside, in the early fall.

A committee, composed of Walter Prehn, Kurt Schmidt and Jack Pugh, were appointed to assist with arrangements for the gardeners' picnic, which will be held on August 28 and will include the organizations of San Mateo, San Francisco, Oakland, Menlo Park and Woodside. The location for the event has not been decided upon but will be announced later by S. P. Vistica of San Mateo, who is chairman of the combined committees.

The evening was concluded with refreshments served by the following committee: Antone Dedo, chairman; Hugh O'Neill and Vincent Goso.

The next meeting of the Woodside association will be held on August 29, a week earlier than schedule but arranged so to avoid conflicting with the Labor Day holiday.

FREE COUNTY 'PHONES HIT

County Will Not Bear Expense Of Home Instruments

San Mateo county supervisors served notice today that they will no longer honor claims for home telephones of county officials.

Justices of the peace, constables and other officials having extensions or more than one telephone will be informed that the board will not allow the claims. In the case where public business is done over the home 'phones the official is to bill the county each month.

This decision was reached by the board late yesterday during its budget discussions.

Stock To Conduct Next Symphony

Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, will conduct the final program of the 1932 summer symphony season at the Woodland Theatre in Hillsborough August 7. He will stop off here on his way to the Hollywood Bowl, where he will conduct for two weeks.

Stock was a member of the Theodore Thomas Orchestra in Chicago and, upon the death of the founder and director, succeeded to the leadership. He was born in Germany and acquired his early musical training from his father who was a well known bandmaster and composer of military music. He came to Chicago in 1895 after having met Thomas in Cologne where he was at the time first violinist of the famous Municipal Orchestra.

Carnival to Open Week's Run Monday

The Foley and Burk Combined Shows will play an engagement of one week at Redwood City commencing Monday, August 8.

This is the first appearance of this well-known amusement organization in this city, although they have been playing in the close proximity for more than a quarter of a century.

It is said there is nothing new about a carnival company. This, however, does not hold good about the Foley and Burk shows. In genuity, variety and cleanliness are the features that set this organization apart and distinguishes it from most traveling amusement enterprises. The show grounds will be at Five Points.

Victor Canavasse has been enjoying a trip which took him as far north as British Columbia.

During his many years in Chicago, Stock has been closely identified with important musical activities not only in the city of his adoption but nationally and the latest honor to be conferred upon him is that of general director of all musical programs to be arranged in connection with the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago next summer.

This veteran director is not only well known as a conductor but also as a composer of distinction and his works include symphonies, concertos for violin, and many compositions which were written to commemorate special occasions and events. His program for the Woodland Theatre will be made up largely of numbers which have not been heard previously at these Sunday concerts.

Council Sees Little Hope To Install Storm Sewer

Because of an estimate that it will cost $16,000 to build a storm water sewer in the Brewster-Hillview district, and the certainty that a bond issue would not be approved for this project at this time, little relief is in sight for that area this winter.

This the council decided Monday night in making a study of the project after the request for relief made two weeks ago by Joseph Casaretto.

The difficulty met by the council is that the storm waters come from outside the city limits and the Mattoon act would be necessary to undertake the county-city project. The new city act does not permit the municipality to go outside the limits to make improvements.

Over 750 lots are involved, and the council feels that few persons in the district would care to stand the expense at this time. Casaretto is to be told of this, and despite his willingness to bear his part of the expense, he is to be informed that little relief can be had.

Other Council Matters
Al T. Smith protested the dangerous jog at Katherine and Myrtle streets, saying that cars and the fire engines frequently banged against the curb in making the sharp turn. This was referred to City Engineer Dimmitt for a report on the cost of repair.

Emmett Donnelly was the lowest of seven bidders to supply the city with public liability and property damage insurance, bidding $697.91. He was asked to submit the policy at the next meeting.

City Health Officer Drathman reported that the dust nuisance from the Arata fuel yard has been corrected.

The city voted to continue its state compensation fund insurance. Clayton W. Schimpf reported two power poles standing near his place were in dangerous condition and asked the council to investigate.

The city approved the plan to reorganize the California League of Municipalities as outlined.

Woodside Is Given Scare By Big Blaze

The huge blaze southwest of Woodside which alarmed residents of that area late Monday, and called out their fire department, was found to be the result of the Santa Cruz Lumber Company burning off a section of knock-down timber near Waterman Gap on the Big Basin road.

The Woodside department, answering the alarm, found the fire to be outside its limits.

Fire Warden Bert Werder was at the scene, although the company has secured permission to proceed with the burning.

Werder was also called to Rockaway Beach yesterday when a section of underbrush burned over.

Burlingame's New Budget Adopted

BURLINGAME, Aug. 2.—The Burlingame City Council last night adopted the 1932-33 budget of $200,544. It provides for a 12-cent cut in the tax rate.

The city was asked to halt the attacks by dogs on postal employees. This matter was referred to the police department.

Plans For County Legion Dance Are Being Completed

Preparations are being completed this week by the committee in charge of the San Mateo Council, American Legion, benefit dance Saturday night at Peninsula Beach, formerly Pacific City. Charles H. Ward, general chairman, announced today that tickets, which are 50 cents, are now obtainable at Locke's, as well as from committee members. Others handling tickets here are Mr. Ward, Fred Crumb and Thomas Vernal.

An orchestra of national reputation has been engaged for the evening, and it is planned to entertain a record number of dancers.

Burglar Flees, Dropping Two Bags Of Tools

ATHERTON, Aug. 2.—A would-be burglar with a liking for tools was frightened away from the Stewart Lowery estate here at 1:30 this morning by the Lowery chauffeur, A. R. Wilkins, and two sacks of mechanic's tools were dropped in the flight.

The intruder was not apprehended after two hours' search by police, but the latter did find a coat, a pair of coveralls and a third sack of tools under a tree 150 feet away from the garage near the chauffeur's cottage which the prowler had looted.

Contents of this third sack, a hand drill, brace and bit, four hammers, an electric plate and a waffle iron, are believed to be the loot of a previous burglary by the man.

Wilkins was awakened by noises in the yard outside his gate cottage, and his investigation caused the unknown visitor to run away into the darkness. The Lowery tools were dropped 60 feet away.

Mexico produces more silver than any other country in the world, exporting almost all of its output.
